Reciprocity with Canada.

After a repose of six years the subject of a reciprocity treaty with Canada is again receiving public attention under circumstances that encourage the hope that ultimately a new treaty, quite as favorable to both countries as that of 1854, will be negotiated. Thus far the inquiry has been preliminary in character, but radical, seeking to discover a proper basis on which to establish commercial relations between the two countries that shall be permanent, and the established policy of both Governments in their relations with each other. For some time the House Committee on Foreign Affairs has had the subject under consideration, the result of petitions from the merchants of several of the leading cities of the United States, and it is understood that the Committee have agreed upon a favorable report and a resolution to be submitted to the House. The resolution requests the President to appoint a Commission of three to ascertain and report upon what basis a reciprocity treaty for the mutual benefit of the United States and Canada can be negotiated. It is intended that the Commission shall inquire into the natural and artificial obstacles to reciprocity, gather statistics and present the result of their labor to Congress in such a manner as will give Congress and the country the fullest information in the simplest form. The report of Mr. Cox, the chairman of the Committee, which is to be printed, is said to be very able. In it he propounds three questions, all of which he answers in the affirmative; Is the proposed reciprocity treaty important? Is there a demand for it? Will a commission to consider the subject be advisable? The friends of the measure are sanguine that the resolution will be eventually adopted by the House, though there will be some opposition coming chiefly from Pennsylvania.

The treaty of 1854 had for its guiding principle that natural products of both countries, including agricultural products, animals, lumber, coal, ores, &c., should be admitted into each country free of duty, and the privilege of fishing in Canadian waters was conceded to the United States. This treaty expired by limitation in 1864, and it is admitted that it worked well on the whole; and it is significant that the petitions for a revival of the treaty or the establishing of a broader one, represent some of the leading interests of the United States, and the business communities of New York, Baltimore, Boston, Portland, Buffalo and Milwaukee.

The opposition to reciprocity in Canada is mainly in the present administration, which is high protective in policy, while that which it succeeded favored a liberal tariff. The financial depression of 1873 affected Canada quite as seriously as it did the United States, causing a falling off in the importation of dutiable goods, chiefly from Great Britain, and creating an annual deficit of about $2,000,000; and to make this deficit good and sustain the credit of the country the Government decided to establish high duties for protection. The present tariff is quite unpopular in England, and very injurious to many of the material interests of Canada, particularly in the Lower Provinces. It is a piece of class legislation, and, so far as it is directed against the United States oversteps the mark; for while the imports of dutiable goods from Great Britain fell off about $17,000,000 in the year 1878, the corresponding reduction in United States goods was only about $1,000,000. The Dominion administration of 1873, which has since gone out of power, was, as we have said, a liberal one, "favoring free trade so far," says Sir Francis Hincks in a recently published paper on the subject, "as was consistent with levying customs duties on articles produced or manufactured in the country." It was in obedience to this policy that the Canadian authorities obtained the consent of Great Britain to the opening of a fresh commercial negotiation with this country. The British minister at Washington, Sir Edward Thornton, and Hon. George Brown, a Dominion Senator, were accredited as joint plenipotentiaries to negotiate a treaty of fisheries, commerce and navigation with the United States. The result of their labors, in conjunction with Secretary Fish, was a treaty draft which was rejected by our Senate after having been approved by the governments of Great Britain, of the United States and of Canada. The negotiators on the part of Canada endeavored to make the new treaty very like that of 1854, but our government demanded that certain goods supposed to be common to both countries should be included, and the British negotiators acceded thereto. The list comprises articles imported from the United States to the amount of $3,000,000 in 1878 and paying a revenue of $500,000 to the Dominion. This provision was indignantly commented on by a portion of the Canadian press, who declared that reciprocal free trade in natural products had only been obtained "by the sacrifice of the manufacturing interests in addition to the fisheries," and the United States Senate, in rejecting the treaty, unwittingly did the Canadian manufacturers a great service. The failure of the negotiations for this new treaty in 1874, gave renewed courage to the Canadian protectionists, and, taking up the cry of protection to home industries, the "opposition" party went before the people in the general election in 1878 and succeeded in getting control of the government. But, as we have indicated, the new tariff is burdensome to a majority of the producing classes, and unequal in its operations upon all. But the tariff policy of Canada is in its transition state, and, according to Mr. Cox, there are indications which show that the present tariff of May, 1879, is but the precursor of a system of prohibitory tariff legislation which will be adopted by Canada unless some arrangements to secure the commercial interests of the countries be made. Our trade with Canada takes the fifth rank in the order of our dealings with foreign nations, and is very profitable because Canada is a large purchaser of our goods and wares. If there were material defects in the treaty of 1854 we are wiser for the experience; and something should be done at once to remove the present uncertainty and suspicious jealousy which surround tariff questions between the two countries. At least a good method is now proposed to ascertain the temper of Canada upon the subject. The friends of reciprocity in the Dominion rely upon the great value to us of the fishing privilege, and claim that their concession of this privilege in the rejected treaty was a token of their desires, and they allege that the Senate is alone responsible for the dissatisfaction that exists in the United States with the Halifax award, for had the treaty been approved the money payment would never have been made. The readjustment of the fishery question, which must soon be met by our Government, will be the occasion for the Canadian friends of reciprocity to secure, if possible, a new treaty.

THE Detroit Post in the course of a discussion of the Presidential nomination makes the following sensible remarks: There ought to be good temper in the Republican discussion of what is the wisest action to take at Chicago. The five gentlemen whose names are "mentioned" in connection with the presidential nomination are able, upright and trustworthy Republicans, who are personally qualified for the executive chair, and whose public and party services entitle them to immunity from defamation at the hands of Republican newspapers. The disposition to labor for the nomination of one candidate by breaking down the hold of others upon the popular confidence, is too common. A full and frank consideration of all phases of the question is desirable, but it ought to begin with the admission that the opposition can be relied upon to rancorously assail any candidate who may be nominated, with the resolution that the Republicans will leave to it a monopoly of the business of abusing the leaders of their own party.

A NEW YORK Greenback paper wants to see Col. R. M. Springer, editor of the New Era Leader and Sunday New Era and President of the Maine State Circle B. P. L., nominated by the Nationals for the Presidency; and the Greenback Labor-Chronicle advocates the renomination of Cap'n Chase, T. A. B. U. L. A. T. O. R., for Governor of Maine. The suggestions are both good. Springer and Chase make a ticket that any defender of the State steal ought to be proud to vote. It should be remembered that Cap'n Chase's name was first suggested by the PRESS. The Chronicle shows its usual good sense in accepting the hint.

THE Chicago Times introduces a new feature in the publication of newspapers. It is to vary the size of its sheet every day, according to the amount of news it has to publish. If 48 columns of space is needed it will have a 48-column sheet, and if it has 90 columns of news and other essential matter a 90-column paper will appear. By this means the Times expects to avoid the necessity of printing triple or quadruple sheets when additional space is needed.

A CORRESPONDENT of the New York Evening Post puts the following pertinent question: "Every cadet at West Point (including Whittaker) declares upon his honor that he did not slice off Whittaker's ears. Why does General Schofield accept as conclusive the statement of every cadet except Whittaker, whose ears were the ones operated upon, and who ought to know certainly whether he did it himself or not?"

THE Mayor of Montreal tells a Boston Herald reporter that a bill of sweeping proportions will be introduced into Parliament removing all obstacles and exactions from the harbors within the limits of the Dominion, thus virtually rendering not only Montreal, but all Canada ports, free to the commerce of foreign countries.

FOGG'S Chronicle offers as a premium to new subscribers the steel engraving entitled "Nearer, My God to Thee," as "typical", the Chronicle says, "of that light which falls from above and floods the soul in its moments of devotion." Now is the time to subscribe; for, again says the Auburn paper, it is "the most extraordinary offer ever made in journalism."

THE Cleveland Plaindealer, a Democratic newspaper, concedes the State Convention to Sherman, but adds: "It will be a repetition of the Ohio Democratic mistake of 1876, when the delegation was instructed for Allen, but at heart knew it ought to be for Thurman." In other words, the Ohio delegation will be for Sherman, "but at heart knows it ought to be for Blaine."

THE people of San Francisco talk very much as though they would like to see some more shooting between the Kalloch and De Young families. The two might be put into the lists like Clan Chattan and Clan Kay in "St. Valentine's Day."

THE Republican Conventions in North Carolina and Georgia show that Gen. Grant cannot command the solid support of Southern Republicans at Chicago, and seriously jeopard his chances of nomination on the first ballot.

THE Hartford Courant thinks that before Tilden's funeral, so extensively advertised by Kelly, takes place, it is probable the corpse will be heard from, at least to the extent of selecting the hymn for the occasion.

THERE is some belief in Washington that President Hayes "will resume the veto business at the old stand." He made a great success last year.

PUT not your trust in Probabilities.

It Will Never be Played.

[Detroit Free Press.]

"By gum!"

Mr. and Mrs. Defoe sat before a cheerful fire in their home the other evening. There had been a long period of silence, when Mr. Defoe suddenly exclaimed as above.

"What is it, dear?" she responded.

"Say, we've got tired of playing games, and what do you say to private theatricals?"

"How?"

"Why, we'll get three or four of the neighbors to join in, and we'll meet at each other's houses and have regular plays."

"That will be splendid!" she gasped.

"Hanged if it won't! Wonder we never thought of it before. Twenty dollars will get us all the scenery we want, and each one can furnish his own wardrobe. By gum! we've got the idea now;"

"What sort of a play could we play?" she asked, as he marched up and down with tragic step.

"I have it—aha!" he exclaimed, as he stopped short. "Don't you remember I started to write a play about five years ago? I'll finish it and we'll bring it out. Now let's see how the characters run. There's the Count Dumdoff, who is in love with Geraldine the Fair. I'll be the Count, of course, as he is the hero. He kills four men, rescues Geraldine from several dangers, and there is a good deal of kissing and love making and a happy marriage."

"And I'll be Geraldine."

"You! Oh, you couldn't play that part. She must be young and vivacious. Let's see. I think I'll cast you for Hannah, who keeps a bakery near the Bastile in Paris."

"I'd like to see myself playing Hannah in a bakery, I would!" she defiantly answered. "If you can play Dumdoff I know I can play Geraldine."

"Oh, no you can't, my love, You are a little stiff in the knees, and how you'd look throwing yourself in my arms as the villains pursue. I shall cast that little Widow D. for Geraldine."

"Then there'll be two Geraldines of us! If you can play Dumdoff with your lame back and catarrh I know I can play Geraldine with the little lameness in my left knee."

"Now you listen to reason, Mrs. Defoe. You aren't built for a Geraldine; you are too fat; your feet are too large; you haven't got the voice for it."

"And you'd make a pretty Count Dumdoff, you would," she fired back. "You want to get that crook off your back, that bald head shingled over your mouth repaired and your eyes touched up with a paint-brush! I think I see you killing four villains—ha! ha! ha!"

"Woman! do not anger me!" he said in a deep-toned voice, as he rose up.

"And don't you anger your Geraldine, either!"

"Geraldine! Why you don't know a skyborder from a flat!"

"Dumdoff! And you don't know a skye terrier from the big fiddle in the orchestra!"

"'Tis well! We'll have no playing here!"

"Then you needn't. When I play Hannah in a bakery to let you hug and kiss the Widow D. or any other woman all over the stage, you'll be three or four Count Dumdoffs!"

"I'll burn the play, jealous woman!"

"If you don't I will, vain man!"

Then they sat down and resumed their former occupation of looking into the fire, and the disturbed cat went back to her rug and her dreams.

Our New York Letter.

The New York Democratic Convention—The Republican Canvass—The Madison Square Accident—The West Point Inquiry—The Adams Family.

NEW YORK Apr. 24, 1880.

The action of the Democratic convention of this State renders the nomination of Tilden more improbable than it was before, if there could be such a thing. The antagonizing factions maintain their attitude of implacable hostility. The Tammany men have been mercilessly flouted and they are thirsting for revenge. Mr. Kelly gives notice that Mr. Tilden cannot receive the votes of his followers, and under such circumstances that gentleman will not find the nomination worth taking and if it were, he couldn't get it. The supporters of Tilden controlled the organization and could direct the proceedings of the convention as they wished to without let or hindrance from any quarter. The fact that they saw fit to snub and defy Mr. Kelly is pretty conclusive proof that they have abandoned all hope of effecting a reconciliation and that nothing remains for them but to avenge their wrongs by treating the authors of them with contumely. Mr. Tilden will exercise a potential sway in the Cincinnati convocation but it is reasonably safe to predict that he will not be the standard bearer. The Democrats are not giving away the whole thing at the outset. However desperate their chances may be, they will make a determined struggle to secure executive power. The stake is too mighty to admit of a surrender in advance. The odds against them are heavy. They are destitute of a popular rallying cry as they are of an available candidate, but they will make a stand, and fight till the sun goes down on the 2d of November. In their dilemma they will look up the best candidate that can be found in their ranks. If they have nobody who can evoke enthusiasm, they will at least make search for some one who will not be the object of animosities. The one mistake they will avoid is the selection of a nominee who resides in the one Northern State they must carry to succeed, who cannot command the votes of seven-eighths of his own party and not a single one from any citizen of average intelligence who is on the other side or in the dismal swamp of torpid neutrality.

The Republicans are having a brisk canvass for the choice of a leader, and there are some things said and done in the heat of it that are in bad taste and provocative of dissatisfaction. But the prospects are that as soon as the ticket is announced there will be a complete closing of the ranks and harmonious preparations for a vigorous campaign. The Republicans are so opulent in good candidates that they cannot well commit a serious error. And when the names are agreed upon there will be an early opening of fire all along the line. It will be shown that the material welfare of the country will be imperilled by the advent of a Democratic Executive; that the Treasury will be depleted and the National debt immensely increased by the payment of spurious claims against the government; that the crime of trampling on the rights of citizens in a quarter of the States is not only to go unpunished but virtually legalized; and that the currency is in danger of being tampered with and diverted from that plane of soundness to which it has been brought by the vetoes by Republican Presidents of the measures passed by Democratic Congresses. The business men of the Republic will take alarm; the forces of industry will combine to save the nation from falling entirely under Democratic rule; there will be a great uprising of the people to protect the State; the Congressional Record furnishes evidence enough to condemn the legislation of the Democracy, and there will be no doubt of the completeness of the arraignment or the emphasis of the conviction.

The accident that occurred at the Madison Square Garden on the evening of the 21st was deplorable, and reveals a dreadfully slipshod management of the establishment, implicating owners, managers, and the Department of Public Buildings. There ought to be a searching investigation to discover where the responsibility especially belongs. It is wonderful under the circumstances that only four lives were lost. This unsightly structure has long been an eyesore to the respectable people of New York as well internally as externally. It has been a scene for those demoralizing walking matches which kept a gaping mob of lazy creatures idle for six consecutive working days, and for a good many other exhibitions that could have been dispensed with without any detriment to the well being of the city. It will be some compensation for the calamity that has happened if the remaining portions of the walls are removed, and the ground utilized for some desirable purpose.

The West Point inquiry develops a worse state of affairs at the Military Academy than could have been conceived of. It seems that the bad behaviour of the cadets meets the entire approval of the Professors. These charity scholars, sent there to receive their education at the expense of the taxpayers, are encouraged to practice incivilities and even brutalities toward a comrade that would disgrace a Ute Indian. The public feeling of condemnation of this nursery of snobbery is getting intense and unless the whole concern is renovated and purified, there will be a growing sentiment in favor of extinguishing it.

A member of the complacent and self-admiring Adams family came on from Massachusetts the other day to instruct the unanointed and benighted New Yorkers how to perform their political duties. His plan is simple enough. It merely consists of delegating the political power to ten chosen vessels out of every hundred citizens, leaving the others merely to follow with submissive docility. He does not limit his project to the demand that minorities shall govern; it is essential to the effective operation of his theory that the minorities should be small. Ten per cent. is the maximum number proposed. It might be better to leave the whole affair to the Adamses, but as long as they are the chief priests of this novel political temple it will be safe to let in a few other individuals of superior "culchaw."

It really doesn't seem that it can require any very prolonged or exhaustive ventilation of grotesque crotchets like these to convince every rational mind in the country that they are absurdly impracticable in the first place, and that if they were not, they have the fatal defect of striking a deadly blow at the very system of representative government. When we forsake the principle that majorities must rule we abandon utterly the theory on which the Republic was founded. The one thing which the Chicago Convention ought to do is to present a candidate who is entirely free from any fellowship with or suspicion of toleration of the gray-haired political infants who are putting themselves up to be bid for by the parties who are presently to enter upon a grand and imposing contest for the highest office of the State.

YARMOUTH.

The New Gambling.

[Worcester Spy.]

Gambling is the favorite vice of the time, not that form of gambling which is done with cards or dice, at faro tables, or in gambling hells. That is perhaps not so common as it once was. It has been superseded to some extent by another phase equally exciting and dangerous, but less disreputable. Of course the railing at fairs and such places differs not at all in substance from the common forms of gambling, except that it is confined within narrower limits. It is, so to speak, playing at vice. But the most prevalent form of gambling in these days is stock speculation, and it never was more rampant and more mischievous than it is now. Stocks are of course bought for investment, but only certain classes of stocks. The greater numbers are dealt in for speculative purposes only. Everybody who is tolerably well informed in such matters understands that the mines are not, and cannot by any possibility be worth the money which the stock nominally represents. There is always the possibility that any particular mine may be one of the few exceptions, but that possibility does not really make it available for speculative purposes. The majority of the buyers and sellers neither know nor care about the value of the mining stock they know, for example, if they know that the silver more money has already been taken out of mines of Maine than will ever be known about them. They know or care California unrich as many of the mining stocks they have absorbed more of the capital of the country than some men have made by dealing in mining stocks as some fortunes by dealing in stocks. Men have won great fortunes by other forms of gambling, but for every one who has been enriched, hundreds have been ruined. The vice is alluring and its fascinations increase by indulgence. Its votaries will never be cured of their folly by newspaper articles, and we do not write with that hope.

One man in Michigan sent a solution of the puzzle, which he thought would have a curative effect.

A detective who has watched the movements of E. D. Winslow, the Massachusetts forger, confirms the report that he has married again, although his first wife is living. When it became known in Buenos Ayres that he was an escaped forger he was expelled from church and "dropped" by the American residents. He early took up his residence with a Mrs. Clark and her daughter, a girl of sixteen years. A Formidable Strike Impending in the Coal Regions.

NEW YORK, April 26.—A Pittston, Pa., letter states that there is great dissatisfaction among the 10,000 miners employed in the Lehigh, Wyoming and Lackawanna districts, consequent upon the shutting down of work from last Wednesday till the 3d of May. It is feared that a great strike will ensue, as several large secret meetings of miners have been held. The large companies are indifferent as to a strike, they having great quantities of coal at tide water, and the small operators who have not shut down are carrying all the work possible to accumulate stock in anticipation of a strike.

XLVIth CONGRESS—1st Session.

SENATE.

A bill establishing a retired list for non-commissioned officers was taken up.

Committee on appropriations reported the Indian appropriation bill with its total increased $165,755 over the amount of the House appropriations.

Conference committee on immediate deficiency appropriation bill was appointed.

Mr. Allison offered an amendment that the President shall each year appoint two colored cadets to go to West Point.

Debate followed in which West Point was uncomplimentarily referred to.

Mr. Saulsbury opposed Mr. Allison's amendment and opposed the bill itself.

The morning hour expired and the Senate resumed the resolution declaring Spofford entitled to Kellogg's seat in the Senate.

Mr. Jonas supported the resolutions.

Mr. Kellogg made a few remarks contradicting the statements of fact in the speech of Mr. Jonas.

Mr. Blaine contended that the effort to place Spofford in the Senate was astounding, and was in violation of an agreement made on the floor of the Senate that Butler of South Carolina was to be seated in the Senate.

Mr. Butler said: Do I understand the honorable Senator to say I made any agreement by which I retained my seat or procured my seat upon this floor?

Mr. Blaine—No, sir. I never referred to the honorable Senator because he was not a member of this body. I said a leading Democratic paper, a paper in his own state, in an elaborate editorial, stated and showed by the record that the Senator never could have been seated except for an agreement made by Senators in this body, and that it was binding as the paper representing the Senator's political views in South Carolina states it, "honorably binding." upon the Democratic side of the chamber.

Mr. Butler—I know nothing about who wrote or inspired the editorial, therefore I am not responsible for what the editor of any newspaper says. All I wanted to know was whether the Senator stated or intimated that I was a party to any agreement by which I held my seat on this floor. Of course the explanation is satisfactory.

Mr. Bayard denied in strong language that any bargain had been made in relation to the seat in the Senate, and rather than be a party to such a dishonorable affair he (Bayard) would have left the Senate never to return.

After further debate Mr. Kellogg wished it understood that so far as he was concerned there was no bargain or trade in regard to his seat. He rested his claim to his seat upon the ground that he was seated after a full, fair and impartial investigation of all facts in the case. Pending further debate the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

A bill was introduced to tax the manufacture of oleomargarine.

A resolution was adopted calling for the correspondence relative to the interference with American fishermen in Fortune Bay January 6th, 1878.

The House went into committee of the whole on the bill making appropriations for the District of Columbia.

The committee, after considering District of Columbia Appropriation bill, rose and reported it to the House.

No quorum voted on its passage and it went over.

Conference committee on the special deficiency bill was appointed, and House adjourned.

THE PRESIDENCY.

Grant Likely to Be Defeated by Blaine in Illinois—Strong Opposition to Grant in Pennsylvania.

BOSTON, April 26.—A Washington dispatch to the Journal says that a Pennsylvania Republican Congressman, who has just returned from the Hot Springs, and who is himself a Grant man, says that from a conference had with prominent Illinois Grant men, he learns that Grant's friends are much discouraged as to the political outlook in Illinois, and he greatly fears that Grant will not carry the State convention. If Grant is defeated it will be by Blaine.

The same gentleman states that the Republican disaffection in his own State (Pennsylvania) is so great that it will be impossible for Grant to receive the vote of the united delegations. He said that the main point in Blaine's programme is to break the unit rule in Pennsylvania and New York as well as to prevent Grant from securing the vote of Illinois.

DE YOUNG'S MURDER.

Young Kalloch Still Unwilling to Talk.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Young Kalloch still declines to say anything of the circumcumstances leading to his attack on De Young, but regarding the alleged conspiracy in which Ranson, the Mayor's colored servant, is made figure, he remarked: "If you see Ranson you can tell him to come right out square with the truth. It can't hurt any one."

Mayor Kalloch was attending to his duties at City Hall today. He voluntarily stated that he deeply deplored the turn matters had taken, and so did his family. He thought that within thirty days, when the excitement had subsided, however much the tragedy was to be regretted, the city at large would be much more peaceful and less agitated. With regard to the report of his having been shown town on the night of the murder, both he and his son deny the rumor as being malicious and absurd. The Mayor also stated that he had no further public speech to make. The man who tried to assassinate him is no more, although he met his death from a source that was of course to him most deplorable. He should continue to fulfil his duties as Mayor to the best of his ability.

The workingmen have placed a guard of 22 men, taken from their militia, on duty at Mayor Kalloch's house to prevent the intrusion of undesirable parties who, they think, might be intent on some desperate act.

THE ILLINOIS CYCLONE.

Several Towns in Christian County Damaged.

A LARGE NUMBER OF LIVES LOST.

NEW YORK, April 26.—A despatch from Taylorville, Ill., says that a cyclone passed over a portion of Christian county on Saturday evening, marking its course 30 rods wide and ten miles long. Houses, timber, barns and fences were carried away, and several lives were lost. Among the killed are Mrs. T. T. J. Langley and two children of Alonzo Cutler. One of the Cutler children was found in a brush heap 200 yards from the house with the upper part of the skull gone. Besides these, Mrs. Cutler, John Hay, Harry Langley, Mrs. Hoefner and two children, Alexander Elliott, James Watts and wife, and Geo. Higgins and wife are not expected to live. Mr. and Mrs. Higgins are in a precarious condition. They sought shelter from the storm behind a chicken coop, and several hours after were picked up a quarter of a mile away mangled almost beyond recognition. Other wounded ones are Lizzie Leigh, Thomas Chew, two children of John Hay, T. S. Langley and child, Benjamin Leigh, three children of Mrs. Hoefner, Mrs. Elliot, T. W. Brents and Thos. Hill.

Some 15 or 20 dwelling houses, barns and other farm property were leveled to the ground, and the debris was carried by the wind miles from where it was picked up. Willow Ford bridge, across the South Fork, was torn to atoms, and some of the heavy timbers found a mile away. The damage done to houses, barns, fences, wheat fields and stock. reaches $60,000. Many families are destitute of clothing, homes and food. Relief has been furnished those bereft of the necessaries of life, and further assistance will be rendered. All the physicians and many citizens have set out for the scene of the calamity to render assistance.

Great trees were torn up by the roots and carried rods away. The bodies of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs are lying around everywhere, some of them having been thrown against the ground so violently as almost to bury them. One horse was found standing on its head in a barn. Others were run through with rails. Miles of fencing are down.

The cyclone struck Sheffield, Ill., blowing down Valentine's store, in which two powder cans exploded, severely injuring Valentine and fatally wounding a clerk. Several houses were blown from their foundations, and a large number of people badly injured. Mrs. Abner Haynes was blown 200 yards and killed. Over $100,000 worth of property was destroyed.

At Edinburg, Ill., five houses and barns were torn to pieces, and Mr. and Mrs. Grigins fatally injured.

The Afghans Defeated in Another Engagement.

The Times' Cabul dispatch says that some letters of Abdurrahman Khan have been intercepted here quite friendly to the British. At the Durbar almost all the Kohistan chiefs voted for Abdurrahman as Ameer.

After the defeat of the Afghans at Ghuznee the Logar portion of the Afghan troops attacked a small force at Charasaib, but owing to the reinforcements of the enemy were defeated. One hundred Afghans were killed. The British loss was 6 killed and 26 wounded. The country around Cabul is quiet.

The News' correspondent at Cabul reports that the chiefs about Ghuznee are all submitting.

Ghuznee city is poverty stricken. The fortifications are contemptible. Mahomed Jan's brother came in with other chiefs and Mahomed Jan fled to Jurmat. The force will halt here two days when it will proceed to march to Shekoabad, 46 miles distant.

Detail of the Battle at Ghuznee.

The following are the full details of the battle between Gen. Stewart and the Afghans on the 29th:

The enemy was observed two miles off, and the British force immediately formed into position. The artillery advanced on attack, firing with great effect on the enemy, who lined the crest of the hills But before the attack developed a desperate charge by 3,000 Ghazis was made along the face of the whole line, enveloping both flanks. The Ghazis, of whom many were mounted were magnificently led by three men with standards, charged right into the British and some of them succeeded in getting round the flank of two squadrons of lancers, who charged on the body. A considerable number also got through the line of infantry in the centre and nearly reached Gen. Stewart and the headquarters of his staff. In stopping these and defending the guns on the right two squadrons of Punjab cavalry made several brilliant charges and did great execution. The action lasted an hour when the enemy retired off the hills to the plain, leaving 1,000 dead and removing as many wounded. The British loss was 17 killed and 126 wounded.

CABUL, April 26.—Mahomed Alam Khan who held Ghuznee before the arrival of the British surrendered the place to them. Moora Khan, son of the ex-Ameer, had before the arrival of the British been removed to Shilgurh. A sirdar has left Ghuznee to recover Moora Khan. Alam Khan will be appointed provisional governor at Ghuznee.

The Peruvian transport Oraya returned to Callao. She ran past the Chilian fleet in the night, and visited Tocopilla, destroyed some launches, captured a small steamer, afterwards proceeded to Chira and discharged a lot of arms and ammunition.

The Associated Charities.

The new cantata, entitled the Song Tournament, which will be produced at Congress Hall by the Portland Chorus Choir, on Thursday evening next, is said to be an exceedingly well arranged and pleasing composition. The choir has had it in rehearsal for a long time past, under the efficient drill of Mr. W. L. Fitch. Mr. Porteous, who has attained an excellent reputation as a baritone singer, has kindly consented to assume the part of the Herald who introduces each nation in the cantata.

The Associated Charities is now our most important benevolent organization, embracing as it does all the other benevolent institutions, and the entertainment Thursday should prove in the highest degree successful from a pecuniary point of view.

ODD FELLOWSHIP.

Celebration of the 61st Anniversary.

The First Patriarchal Association of Portland, which is composed of members of Machigonne, Eastern Star, Falmouth and Portland Encampments, celebrated the sixty-first anniversary of Odd Fellowship yesterday by a parade and ball, and were assisted by guests from abroad, members of the encampments of other Maine cities. The weather, which had been threatening all the morning, became pronounced about the time of the arrival of the visitors, when copious showers bedewed the earth, and the strangers' handsome regalias. Members of the Portland committee met the visitors at the railroad stations at noon and escorted them to Odd Fellows' Hall, Johnson's Band of Lewiston and Glover's Band of Auburn playing finely despite the dispiriting influences of the rain.

Arrived at the hall a bountiful collation, prepared by S. W. Fletcher, was served to the hungry Patriarchs. The hall was prettily decorated with flags and bore the motto "Wel, come to our Hospitality." There was not as large an acceptance of the invitations to be present from out of town encampments as was expected, but those who did come were warmly welcomed.

Owing to the rain the parade was postponed until 4 p. m., and then the route was very much shortened. During the parade the streets were crowded with spectators, the flags were displayed from public and private buildings, and the bands played splendidly. Just before the procession started Chandler's Band gave "Farewell to Europe" and "Hydropathen Waltzes" with fine effect in front of the hall. The following was the order of procession:

Squad of Portland Police.
Chandler's Band—25 pieces.
Commander-in-Chief W. A. Allen.
First Patriarchal Association of Portland—54 men.
Johnson's Band—25 pieces.
Worumbus Encampment of Lewiston—52 men.
Glover's Band—20 pieces.
Pejepscot Encampment of Auburn—50 men.
Wildey Encampment of Norway—20 men.
Delegations from various Encampments.

Worumbus Encampment of Lewiston paraded as a company with the following officers:

Major—Hiram Snow.
Captain—I. B. Merrill.
1st Lieutenant—J. S. Manson.
2d Lieutenant—E. Blake.

The principal Encampment officers are as follows:

Chief Patriarch—J. S. Elder.
Senior Warden—L. C. Peck.
Junior Warden—A. L. Wells.
High Priest—George Furbush.
George A. Callahan, Esq., Past Grand Master, and Warren E. Pressey, Past Grand Representative, were also present.

Pejepscot Encampment of Auburn paraded with the following officers:

Captain—A. A. Miller.
1st Lieutenant—J. H. Brabson.
2d Lieutenant—L. W. Haskell.
Their encampment officers were:
Chief Patriarch—L. L. Smith.
Senior Warden—T. A. Jordan.
Junior Warden—C. S. Yeaton.
High Priest—George F. Sturtevant.

Past Chief Patriarchs Langley and Wood were guests of the encampment.

Wildey Encampment of Norway turned out under the following officers:

Chief Patriarch—George A. Cole.
Senior Warden—F. J. Brown.
Junior Warden—E. J. Burrell.
Scribe—C. Chase.
Marshal—Geo. B. Young.

Delegations were also present from Hobah Encampment, Saco, Cummings Encampment, Saccarappa, Mount Pleasant Encampment, Bridgton, and Sagadahoc Encampment, Bath.

The Portland Association had the following officers:

President—S. B. Kelsey.
Vice President—E. A. Gray.
Secretary—J. B. Brown, Jr.
Treasurer—F. T. Littlefield.
Captain—W. A. Allen.
Sub-Captain—F. T. Merrill.
Past Grand Patriarch C. H. Rich paraded with the association.

In the evening the Patriarchs, and their ladies, gathered in City Hall, in large numbers, to partake in the pleasures of the concert and ball. The hall was prettily decorated with flags and the banners of the various lodges and encampments. A marquee was erected at the centre of the rear of the stage surmounted by crossed crooks symbolical of a patriarchial association.

A slight change was made in the concert programme in order that our citizens might have the pleasure of listening to the bands from out of town. First Chandler favored the audience with the overture to William Tell, followed by Johnson's Band of Lewiston with selections from Stradella, and an andante and waltz. Then Glover's Band rendered selections from Macbeth, and Von Suppe's Banditen streiche, after which Chandler's Band closed the programme with a concert polka, with duet for two concerts. Both the visiting bands acquitted themselves with taste and skill and Glover's Band not only showed good execution but they shaded the Macbeth with a delicacy worthy of high praise. Of Chandler's music it is sufficient to say it was Chandler's.

At 9.15 the grand march commenced and about one hundred couples marched on to the floor. The order of dances, twelve in number, received full justice, and many of the lady participants were the friends of the visiting Patriarchs from abroad. At intermission ice cream and cake were served in the Reception Hall. At a late hour the visitors returned to their homes.

Notwithstanding the unpleasant weather every thing passed off most pleasantly, and if it had been pleasant at least 200 men from Portland would have joined in the parade.

The efficient committee of arrangement was composed of F. R. Farrington, W. A. Allen, J. H. Russell, F. T. Littlefield, W. N. Howe, W. E. Carter, J. W. Robinson, D. F. Knight, O. C. Elwell, W. A. Taylor. The floor director at the hall was Fred R. Farrington, assisted by W. N. Howe, W. A. Allen, J. H. Russell, F. T. Merrill, O. B. Whitten, E. A. Gray, S. B. Kelsey, O. C. Elwell.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

Portland Theatre will be filled, no doubt, on Friday and Saturday, by a large audience desirous of witnessing the "Danites," Joaquin Miller's play, which drew such crowds to Music Hall last season. Tickets will be ready to-morrow.

Jacques Offenbach has composed a new three-act opera for the Renaissance Theatre, entitled "Belle Lurette" for which Ernst Blum, Edward Blau and Raoul Tache have written the text.

Mr. Henry Crisp has concluded an engagement with Mr. Augustin Daily for the leading business at Mr. Daly's New York Theatre next season.

"Hozel Kirke," which has had such a prosperous run at the Madison Square Theatre, New York, enters upon its fourth month there.

Miss Neilson began an engagement in New York Monday evening, appearing at Booth's Theatre.

A new play by Sardou, never performed in this country, will open next season at the Boston Museum.

Madame Modjeska has been engaged to appear at the Park Theatre some time during the next season.

The new opera house in Frankfort-on-the-Main is to be opened Oct. 15th, and it is expected that the Emperor William, who will then be en route for Baden-Baden, will attend the opening.

City Hall, May Day.

Every person that attends the May Day Festival, given under the auspices of Bosworth Relief Corps, in City Hall, May Day, will be amply repaid. Whitten, reading by Miss Emma Wyer, violin solo by Miss Bertie Webb, the child violinist, tableaux, pictures, etc., will be given both afternoon and evening, and they cannot fail to please both old and young. The low price of admission ought to insure full houses. "Our Country" is cast as follows:

Columbia.....Jennie Whitney
13 Original States, 25 " } .....38 Young Ladies
Neptune.....Arthur Spaulding
Mars.....Elmer H. Ingalls

Accidents.

Saturday evening a young man fell down the hold of a vessel lying at Ferry Village, and injured his head and broke an arm.

Yesterday Charles Goldsmith, who resides on York street, was taking a horse from the stable, when the animal accidentally struck him on the calf of the leg with one of its hoofs tearing the flesh badly.

As Mr. Joseph Craig and family were riding Sunday afternoon in the vicinity of the Marine Hospital, they met with quite a mishap. As they were proceeding down a steep hill the horse stumbled, throwing Mr. Craig, his wife and son out, and breaking one of the shafts. Mrs. Craig was quite severely bruised as was also Mr. Craig.

CAP'N CHASE FOR GOVERNOR.

Words That Will Make the Tabulator's Bosom Swell With Pride.

[From the Greenback-Labor Chronicle.]

While Tom, Dick and Harry are working for the Greenback nomination for Governor, and while there men have been brought to the front a man who has neither brains nor money to put into the campaign, we make this suggestion, that it would be a good idea to give the nomination to Capt. Charles H. Chase of Portland, or John B. Foster of Bangor, who were members of Garcelon's Council. Both are eminently fitted for office, and have position, wealth and influence which they would use in a campaign. They have another advantage. They have assisted to bring the government back to constitutional grounds from which the Republicans had drifted away, in canvassing election returns. The nomination of either of these gentlemen would be an indorsement of the Governor and Council. In such a nomination the Greenback party would take a bold and determined stand; one which would unite all elements of the opposition on a question upon which everybody is deeply interested. How can the party fight the state issue successfully without having a man that represents that issue in the field? Who can do this better that Capt. Chase? While on the Council he was firm, uncompromising and strictly honest. He has been tried and found as true as steel.

It is such as this whom the Chronicle wants for Governor. While other candidates are being "boomed" we say it belongs to some one of that board of men who from the 30th of October to the 7th of January showed more of the right sort of pluck and ability than any other seven who were ever assembled together in the state. The Chronicle has no selfish motive in saying this. Mr. Fogg could not run if he wanted to, or if the people wanted to have him. He is not of the requisite constitutional age. Our reasons are, therefore, wholly for the public welfare; we want a man for Governor who will be Governor if elected, let the Republicans do what they may to revolutionize the state again.

A few unwise Greenbackers want to ignore the old Council and make a new deal. Before they could get through they would find their error. It won't be very nice campaign work to dodge the state issue, when the Republicans will be pressing it to the front. The party that tries it had better be in hades. The way to meet the assassins of constitutional government is with a bold front in a square stand up fight. By ignoring the late canvass and straddling the question such a fight would be impossible. By nominating one of the members of the Council for Governor and saying to the Republicans, come on you rebels who have revolutionized the state, we should have enthusiasm and victory. Any other policy will be defeat.

Lessons on Cookery.

The course of experimental lessons on cookery commenced at the rooms of the Fraternity yesterday afternoon by Miss Dods, a Scotch lady, who recently came to this country. She is one of the early graduates of the Kensington Training-school, and assisted in establishing a similar institution in Edinburgh, in which she was a teacher and lecturer for two years. The thoroughness of her preparation for the work which this experience has afforded is seen in the marked success of the lessons she has given elsewhere.

There was a large attendance yesterday afternoon of our society ladies who had gathered to hear her. Miss Dods is a fair, quiet, self-possessed woman, with a strong face, a finely poised head, and has ease of manner that shows her a mistress of her business. She wastes no time in words but goes straight to work. She possesses a charming Scotch "burr," and is as dainty and exquisite in her dress as can be imagined. The little lady appears to have her numerous receipts at her tongue's end, and while she deftly arranges one dish, she slowly explains the properties of the ingredients entering into its composition, throwing out many valuable hints which cannot fail to be of use to her pupils. The dishes cooked yesterday had a very tempting look, and many praises were bestowed upon the little woman by her fair audience. In explaining her dishes she never says so many pinches of salt or so many cups of butter. She gives distinct measurements. After the lesson was ended the dishes were sold to those who wished to buy.

This afternoon the menu will be as follows:
Foul trussed and dressed.
Maccaroni au Parmesan.
Milk Rolls.
Sweet omelettes.

School Committee.

In the absence of the Mayor Dr. Shailer was appointed chairman pro tem. Present Messrs. Brewer, Ridlon, Shailer, Files and Gray.

The committee on programme presented the new programme in print, as directed by the board, for the examination of the board.

The supervisors reported on their various schools, and in general reporting them in very good condition.

It was voted that the Superintendent of schools be authorized to provide an unabridged dictionary in West School.

Committee on rules and regulations reported the following rule, of which notice was given a month since, and it was adopted, viz:

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Schools call the attention of teachers to the City Ordinance which reads: "No person who has not been vaccinated, or otherwise secured against contagion of small pox, shall be allowed to attend any of the city schools."

Any scholar in any of the city schools who has not been vaccinated, may be sent by a Supervisor, or by the Superintendent of Schools, to the City Physician to be vaccinated at the expense of the city, if provided the parent or guardian of the scholar is unable to bear this expense.

Pay roll and bills amounting to $5,962.88 were reported and approved, the pay day to be May 8.

Permission was granted to Superintendent to attend the educational meeting at Waterville next week.

The cases of corporal punishment in the various schools for the month were presented to the Secretary, and they were found to be diminishing.

A jury was impanelled and yesterday afternoon they visited the city and viewed the premises where the robbery was alleged to have occurred. Mr. C. F. Libby, attorney for the county, and Messrs. A. A. Strout of Portland, and Cotton, of the firm of Frye, Cotton & White, Lewiston, counsel for the bondsmen, were present. They carefully examined all the rooms on the ground floor of the City Building, as well as the first floor, and the adjoining grounds. They arrived in the city about 3.30 p. m. and returned at 5.30 p. m. The case will be regularly opened to-day.

BLAINE IN OHIO.

His Popularity in the Buckeye State.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 23, 1880.

MR. EDITOR:—My business during the last six months has called me through a large majority of the counties in this State, and all the most important ones. I am fully satisfied that if a full, free vote of the Republicans of this State could be taken today at least two-thirds would be for Hon. James G. Blaine for President, and careful observation confirms me in the belief that no man that the Republicans could nominate at Chicago would begin to command the vote in this State which Senator Blaine would poll. The old political ring here are using every means to secure even a complimentary vote for Sherman. It is in the nature of a supplicating appeal in the name of State pride for an Ohio man. At the primary elections for delegates from Cuyahoga county, not only was this appeal relied on, but hundreds of Democrats were voted in the interest of Sherman. In my ward, when I approached the voting place, I was offered a ticket and informed in answer to the question, "Whom do the delegates favor for Presidential candidate?" "Most of them are for Blaine." I soon learned that this was the Sherman ticket in disguise, while Blaine's name headed the other ticket in large type. Hundreds of Democrats and minors were allowed to vote, and a trustee of the ward, himself a Sherman man, declared it was disgraceful. One old one-legged veteran, when appealed to last night just to give Sherman a complimentary vote, replied that he "never wasted ammunition to fire a complimentary salute in the face of the enemy." The Western Reserve is red hot for the "Plumed Knight." Garfield's district, the 19th, yesterday elected two thorough Blaine men to represent them at Chicago, and if the Maine Senator does not secure the delegates at large from Ohio he will certainly have a large minority of the vote as first choice and the solid vote of Ohio as second choice.

REPUBLICAN.

State Valuation.

The State Valuation Commission will take a recess today until the 27th of September. Besides giving hearings to the members of the legislature and other parties interested, the commission has tabulated all the counties in the State from the valuations of 1878 and 1879, and these will be copied during the recess by a patent process, effecting a saving to the State in the way of clerk hire to the amount of some $1,500. From these valuations as a basis of calculations, the commission will proceed with the information they may obtain by other methods, to establish a valuation for the next ten years. One of the important duties on reassembling will be the fixing of the valuation of the wild lands, and this will call forth protracted hearings.

It is gratifying to learn that from present appearances the valuation of the State will show a healthy growth in property during the past ten years. Aroostook and Penobscot may possibly be the banner counties, the former showing a gain of between one and two millions, and aggregating in valuation some seven millions of dollars. According to the assessors' statements, the valuation of the incorporated towns in Aroostook will come within $200,000 of the entire valuation of the county in 1870, leaving out of the account entirely the wild lands.

Several of the counties will show a slight decrease, but taken as a whole, throughout the State, there has been an increase. This is especially gratifying when it is considered that the valuation of 1870 was made in a period of inflation and cheap money, and that of this year when we are down to the bed rock on the currency question.

Kennebunk Industries.

A correspondent of the Union & Journal writing from Kennebunk gives the following ideas of business prospects in that town:

"There is pretty good prospect of such an addition to our manufacturing business here as will make our village one of the busiest and liveliest, as it is one of the handsomest and pleasantest, in the State. Several parties have of late been canvassing the matter of a purchase of the large factory below the bridge, putting in machinery and setting it to work. Two of the parties propose to establish large shoe factories; one a cotton and another a woolen mill, and the likelihood is that the old building will sometime this summer present a busy and lively scene. There is no better water-power than the Mousam affords at this point. It is not affected by floods or drought and the power is abundant for all purposes. Should the factory be started up boarding houses will have to be built, several hundred will be added to our village population, and a large amount of money will be periodically disbursed. It looks now as though Kennebunk had more prosperous days immediately before her."

Shapleigh.

The Lindsey High School in Shapleigh closed a very successful term last Friday. The pupils presented to Mr. M. W. Towne of Alfred, the principal of the school, a fine edition in ten volumes of Chambers Cyclopædia of Universal Knowledge, and to Miss Ida Foss an elegant writing desk. The school has recently been presented with a valuable chemical and philosophical apparatus by Mr. Thing of Ross Corner. The citizens of Shapleigh naturally feel a commendable pride in the prosperity of the school.

The freight depot at the Dover and Foxcroft station was damaged by fire last week.

Bates College.

The hearing before the commissioners appointed by the Probate Court of Middlesex county, Mass., to adjudicate the claims on the estate of the late Benjamin E. Bates has closed. The matter is very important to Bates College as one of the questions which the commissioners are to decide is the validity of Mr. Bates' subscription of $100,000 to that institution. The friends of the college are confident that the claim will be allowed. The value of the Bates estate has increased to such an extent as to remove all questions as to its sufficiency to meet all claims, and leave a handsome balance for the heirs. In May, 1878 when the estate was declared insolvent, the liabilities were estimated at $1,100,000, and the assets at $977,930. It is now estimated that the estate is worth nearly a million and a quarter of dollars, while the liabilities do not exceed $800,000.

Accident on the Buckfield Railroad.

The down train on the Rumford Falls & Buckfield railroad went off the track about one mile beyond Mechanic Falls yesterday morning. No one was injured. The engineer and fireman saved themselves by jumping. The engine was thrown over on its side and two or three freight cars piled up in promiscuous fashion. The trains will be running as usual today.

POETRY.

Modern Whist.

If you the modern game of Whist would know,
From this great principle its precepts flow:
Treat your hand as to your partner's joined,
And play, not one alone, but both combined.

Your first lead makes your partner understand
What is the chief component of your hand;
And hence there is necessity the strongest
That your first lead be from your suit that's longest.

In this with ace and king, lead king, then ace;
With king and queen, king also has first place;
With ace, queen, knave, lead ace and then the queen,
With ace, four small ones, ace should first be seen;
With queen, knave, ten, you let the queen precede;
In other cases, you the lowest lead.

Ere you return your friend's, your own suit play,
But trumps you must return without delay;

When you return your partner's lead, take pains
To lead him back the best your hand contains,
If you received not more than three at first;
If you had more, you may return the most.

But if you hold the master card, you're bound
In most cases to play it second round.
Whene'er you want a lead, 'tis seldom wrong
To lead up to the weak, or through the strong.

If second hand, your lowest should be played,
Unless you mean "trump signal" to be made;
Or if you've king and queen, or ace and king,
Then one of these will be the proper thing.
Mind well the rules for trumps, you'll often need them:
When you hold five, 'tis always right to lead them;
Or if the lead went once to you to you,
Then signal to your partner so to do.

Watch also for your partner's trump request,
To which with less than four, play out your best.

When second hand a doubtful trick you see,
Dont trump it if you hold more trumps than three;
But having three or less, trump fearlessly.

For sequences stern custom has decreed,
The lowest you must play if you don't lead.

When you discard, weak suits you ought to choose,
For strong ones are to valuable too lose.

Nature's Sluice-way.

The Kidneys are nature's sluice-way to wash out the debris of our constantly changing bodies. If they do not work properly the trouble is felt everywhere. Then be wise and as soon as you see signs of disorder get a package of Kidney-Wort and take it faithfully. It will clean the sluice-way of sand, gravel or slime and purify the whole system.

A Lancaster young lady playfully threw her arm around the waist of a lady friend, and a pair of scissors hanging therefrom severed an artery and she nearly bled to death. This accident should teach young ladies that throwing arms around the female waist is a dangerous piece of business and should be performed solely by the male sex. The latter are strong, and brave and don't mind having an artery severed now and then for the good of the cause.—Norristown Herald.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin and Scalp Humors. When of Scrofulous, Cancerous, or Syphilitic origin, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and if there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or other External Affections, then the CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the Skin and Scalp, the principal remedy will then be the CUTICURA, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such use of the RESOLVENT as is suggested by the following conditions: In all Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the skin is hot and dry, the blood feverish, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of Scrofula or poison of Mercury is known to lurk in the system, or when the Constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and Debilitating Diseases, always take the RESOLVENT while using CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies Succeed where a Consultation of Physicians fails.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have suffered over thirteen years with skin disease, in my hands and limbs, causing constant irritation, depriving me of rest and attention to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also use of sulphur baths, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodent,—spots appeared on my hands, head and face, eyes became much inflamed and granulated, causing at length impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by leading physician for six months, was then introduced to another, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had, when a definite plan was decided upon, but all to no purpose.

After following advice for four months without any permanent cure, I bought two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and can testify with great pleasure to the effect they have had in my case, in eight days being nearly cured.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravated one that has ever come under their experience and practice.

I recommend and highly endorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Yours truly, F. H. DRAKE,

Agent for Harper & Bros.' Publications.

CLIFFORD ST. AND WOODWARD AVE., DETROIT, MICH., Jan. 24, 1879.

SALT RHEUM

On face, Head, and parts of Body. Head covered with scabs and Sores.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT. My face and head and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. One very skilful physician said he would rather not treat it and some of them think now that I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. My case has been the means of selling a great many of your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country.

Respectfully yours, MRS. S. F. WHIPPLE.

DECATUR, MICH., Nov. 17, 1878.

CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP are prepared by WEEKS & POTTER, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, and are for sale by all Druggists. MALT UNFERMENTED MALT BITTERS TRADE MARK Malt Bitters Company MALT AND HOPS BITTERS

SLEEPLESS AND MELANCHOLY.—To countless numbers night brings neither peace nor rest. Abandoned to the tortures of wakefulness and despondency, the victim of insomnia prays for sleep, for daylight, for any torment but that which he endures. Morning finds him with bloodshot eyes, feverish and weak. It is plain to all that this frightful strain on the mental and physical forces cannot continue. What shall be done? Abandon all quieting remedies or sleeping mixtures. RESTORE THE APPETITE, ENRICH THE BLOOD. When the brain and every other organ is nourished and strengthened by new blood, sleep will return, and with it cheerfulness and health. To accomplish this great work no medicine or food in the world so successfully combines the elements necessary to success as MALT BITTERS, which are prepared without fermentation from Canadian BARLEY MALT and HOPS, and are free from the objections urged against malt liquors.

Ask for MALT BITTERS prepared by the MALT BITTERS COMPANY, and see that every bottle bears the TRADE MARK LABEL, duly signed and enclosed in wave lines as seen in cut.
